Sinfonia

The musical score is arranged in two systems. The first system contains the Sinfonia, with staves for Violini I and II, Viola, and Basso. The second system contains the vocal parts, with staves for Soprano, Alto, Tenore, and Basso, followed by the Organo. The music is in G major (one sharp) and common time (C). The Sinfonia consists of four measures. The vocal parts are marked with a 'B' on the Tenore staff, indicating a basso continuo line. The Organo part is marked with a 'B' on the left, indicating a basso continuo line. The score is written for a four-part vocal ensemble and a basso continuo line.
